ABOUT VIRGINIA RAILROADS. Every business man in Virginia is interested in railroads, and the people of Roanoke are no exception to the general rule. This being the case, received from Richmond, will get the attention it deserves. He favors also the application of the principles of the interstate commerce law to business within the state. It is probable that during the present year considerable

The appaliting disaster which has wrecked hundreds of once happy homes and sent a thrill of horror throughout the country is second only to that o? Johnstown. But unlike Johnstown the ropean in type and very intelligent. They appeared to be descendants of the people were war ned by the signal serrice, but they did not heed and suffered in consequence. So many jokes have been made at the expense of General Greeley's valuable bureau that its usefulness has been seriously impaired and it has become quite the thing to laugh at its predictions. There can be hardly a doubt, but what these jokes are to a great extent responsible.

But the damage has been done now and it behooves the people of the whole country to come forward, not chief has been averted. The fallen pilenly with their sympathy but with their money. In the wake of the terrible demon of destruction, there is bound to follow much suffering, and we of Virginia should be ready to render to our sister city of the South all the assist- it is necessary to cut off the horns of ance in our power. The people made homeless by this dread disaster should not want for anything, and every little mite contributed will help to soften their physical suffering. "FAKE" NEWSPAPERS.

When the New York papers have nothing startling to write about they fake a story about the moonshiners of the Virginia mountains. Their latest "fake" is a story about two hundred of this gentry who were reported as being fortified in a gorge of the mountains and defying the revenue officers. The correspondent didn't scruple to pile on the agony and described the men as very plentifully equipped with Winchesters and cannon. Now.comes the Henry County Bulletin with the information that there has never been a cannon in Franklin, and the mountaineers wouldn't know how to use it if they had one. The World seems to be trying hard to build up a great newspaper, but one little report like this is enough to ruin the confidence of an entire community in a paper.

THE New York Sun has waged an unceasing warfare on the sickly green stamp and was the prime cause of making Mr. Wanamaker change its color to red. But it isn't satisfied yet should prepare for it. and comes back at him again charging that the ink now rubs off on account of its cheapness.

THAT was a queer ruling of Judge Pocahontas Iump Coal Billings in New Orleans the other day. He is a good republican, and said that the negro's value as a slave must be the basis on which damages to his person as a freeman must be estimated.

ALL Fool's Day will be here on Tuesday, and even now the small boy hatching plans to get the laugh or the unwary man.

A Pet Eagle.

The crew of a steamship at San Francisco number among their pets a young eagle which they caught on Alaskan shores. It is perfectly contented with its new home, and when a reporter went up the gangway to the deck the bird, which is now only half grown and about as large as a wild goose, spied the arrival and went hopping toward him, expecting to receive a dainty morsel. The eagle is favora-ble with all the sailors, and being allowed its freedom grows more independent, it is said, as the days go by.

Cancer of the Breast Cured.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Mrs. S. E. McDougald, a highly esteemed and Christian, lady of Greenville, Ala, under date of February 23d, 1889: About two years ago a cancerous tumor made its appearance on my breast and grew rapidly I became alarmed and consulted the best local physician, and was given the usual remedies which I continued to take for upwards of six months, but without deriving any benefit, for the cancer continued to grow worse. I then went to the drug store of Dr. C. B. Herbort & Son, of this place, and purchased a few bottles of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S. S. S.), and commenced taking it, and in a short time I was permanently cured, and have had no symptoms of a return since.
